Cardiovascular High-Value Specialty Network

We're proud to announce the BayCare Physician Partners' cardiovascular high-value specialty network.

What Is a High-Value Network?

High-value care means providing the best care possible, efficiently using resources and achieving optimal results for each patient. Strong leadership and participant support are essential to making an innovative high-value network successful. We used longitudinal cost, utilization and outcome measures to review our network of regional providers and define the high-value network. A cardiology high-value network of expert physicians from multiple different groups, both employed and independent, was developed with a thoughtful approach to meet the needs of our community. Participants in the network share a vision of high-quality, cost-efficient health care.
